

Job Title: Grant Writer

Job Summary: The Grant Writer will be responsible for researching, writing, and coordinating grant proposals for our organization. The successful candidate will be skilled at identifying funding opportunities, crafting compelling proposals, and maintaining strong relationships with funding sources.

Key Responsibilities:

- Conducting research to identify potential funding sources and developing a pipeline of grant opportunities.
- Writing grant proposals, including developing budgets and supporting documentation, and ensuring compliance with funder requirements.
- Collaborating with program staff to gather information and data needed for grant proposals.

Qualifications:

- Excellent written and verbal communication skills.
- Familiarity with grant application processes and funder requirements.

Working Conditions: This job will typically be performed remotely (home). Some evening or weekend work may be required to meet grant deadlines. Some travel may be required to attend funder meetings or events.
